

What are AV_LOGS?

Posted by Semery - 18 Dec 2012 19:25

The AV_LOGS file which is created by the program is taking up a massive amounts of space; even up to 10 Gigabytes. Is it possible to stop the program from creating these files? What are they and how can I stop them from being created?

Regarding the folder named "AV_LOGS", kindly be informed that it will be created in case you installed an old build of VCS, but it causes no harm to your computer. However, we recommend you to delete it for fastening your PC speed.

Please make a clean uninstall of VCS, delete this file and update to the latest build 7.0.51 to avoid creating this log file.
