What kind of windows you are using ? Re-download latest version of VCSD 7.0 and try again exactly as instructed in the tutorial below in Win 7 :

Try booting in safe mode and going to C:\Program Files\AV Vcs 7.0\DIAMONDdriver

,assuming you installed it to it's default location on drive C:, and try to run the appropriate exe. drvinst for 32 bit systems and I think _inst64 for 64 bit systems. That worked for me when I couldn't get it to install under normal circumstances.
